

2024 Academic Post registrars and research question

RACGP 2023

Name	University	Project Title
Amber (Zi) Ye	The University of New South Wales	Impact of multimorbidity and complex multimorbidity on participation in breast, cervical and colorectal cancer screening among New South Wales residents aged 45 years and over.
Amireh Fakhouri	The University of Melbourne	What perceptions gained from healthcare professionals treating refugees with Chronic Hepatitis B in a general practice clinic dedicated to refugee health could be used to inform practice in other GP clinics?
Christopher Dickie	Australian National University	Does the RACGP Future Leaders Program achieve its aim of developing current and future GP leaders to operate in a complex healthcare system?
Emily Thrower	The University of Melbourne	Pregnancy loss: how can same sex couples be better supported?
Hannah Wu	The University of Adelaide	Evaluating the utility of case-based discussions by novice learners in a general practice clinical placement course
Janani Paramanatham	The University of Melbourne	Data Quality in General Practice EMRs – Is it sufficient for building Clinical Decision Support Tools for Type 2 Diabetes Risk?
Jasmine Lau	The University of Sydney	General practitioners' attitudes towards prescribing psychostimulant medication for management of ADHD in adults
Jenni Marie Ratten	The University of Melbourne	Access to primary health care in university student who engage in risky sexual behaviours
Jessica Van den Heuvel	The University of Queensland	Implicit and Explicit Weight Stigma amongst General Practitioners who practice Maternity Shared Care: A Qualitative Study
Joanne Wong	The University of Western Australia	Emotional care for those experiencing miscarriage: developing a patient-centred guide for health care professionals
Jordan Crawford	Monash University	How do Australian General Practitioners manage delivery of palliative care services in Residential Aged Care Facilities?

Kevin Tee	Australian National University	Nudging patients towards better health outcomes. Can behavioural economics enhance General Practitioner skills in empowering patients to improve medication adherence?
Kyrstel Mollenhagen	Deakin University	Examining final year medical students' experiences of family violence education – knowledge, attitudes and implications for training.
Lisa Olsen	Bond University	The Perceived Barriers, Enablers, and Benefits of the Use of Wearable Integrated Technology as part of the Management of Type 2 Diabetes in the Community
Monika Coha	Monash University	Perception of Sensitive Topic Education by Medical Students in General Practice Education.
Neysan Sedaghat Najafzadeh-Tabrizi	The University of New South Wales	Australian General Practitioners' Knowledge and Perspectives on the Capabilities, Opportunities, and Challenges of Artificial Intelligence in Primary Care.
Nimath Malawaraarachchi	Bond University	General Practice registrars' current knowledge, awareness, and utilisation of clinical prediction rules and other antimicrobial stewardship strategies, in the context of respiratory infections: a qualitative study.
Rim Ghali	The University of Melbourne	Osteoporosis prevention in women at and after menopause; a qualitative analysis of current assessment strategies and intervention approaches by primary care providers.
Shaddy Hanna	The University of Sydney	Understanding how Australian General Practitioners make decisions about utilising Coronary Artery Calcium scoring in cardiovascular disease risk assessment
Shruti Yardi	The University of New South Wales	'Specialist Reconciliation' within General Practices across Australia
Tran Lam	Western Sydney University	The GP's experiences of managing patients in clinical trials: a qualitative study.