Royal Australian College of General Practitioners

Nominations must be received by 5.00 pm (AEST) 17 June 2019

RACGP Rural Registrar of the Year Award recognises an exceptional general practice registrar who demonstrates a commitment to improve the health and wellbeing of communities in regional, rural or remote Australia.

Nominations

Nominations are open to all general practice registrars who are enrolled in the Fellowship in Advanced Rural General Practice (FARGP) during the 2018–19 financial year. The Rural Registrar of the Year can be nominated and seconded by any of the following; a general practice supervisor, a medical educator, a staff member of a regional training organisation, or an RACGP member.

Pre-requisites for nominees

- General practice registrars who are currently enrolled in the FARGP through a regional training organisation.

Criteria

- Demonstrated commitment to rural general practice.
- Demonstrated commitment to learning and developing as a rural GP.
- Evidence of service to rural patients.
- Evidence of commitment and service to the rural practice in which they work.
- Evidence of service to the rural community in which they practice or have practiced.

The prize

The Rural Registrar of the Year Award includes:

- registration to attend the College's annual conference, GP19, being held at the Adelaide Convention Centre, 24–26 October 2019
- return economy flight to Adelaide for the recipient
- accommodation (including breakfast) for 2 nights
- an invitation to attend the National Faculties social event at GP19
- the recipient will be presented with a trophy and a certificate at the RACGP Rural Annual Member meeting.

Nomination form

All nominations for the 2019 Rural Registrar of the Year will be considered by the Rural Adjudication Committee after 17 June 2019.

Submitting the nomination form:
