

RACGP

Royal Australian College of General Practitioners

‘My student membership has put me in touch with experienced GPs and like-minded students at a local and national level, who have helped me find out more about what a career in general practice looks like.’

Noel Ravindranayagam, RACGP student member since 2015

A career in general practice

A career in general practice offers enrichment, reward, the opportunity for personal and professional development and a truly diverse experience in practising medicine.

Variety and portability

Work in a wide variety of community settings, including Australia's metropolitan, rural, remote and very remote areas and overseas.

Specific interests

Pursue many areas of specific interest, including diabetes, paediatrics or palliative care.

Continuity of care

Build long-term relationships, mutual knowledge, understanding and trust with patients to improve patient safety and quality of care.

Work-life balance

General practice offers a variety of flexible working arrangements, including full-time, part-time, evenings or weekends, or short-term locum work.

Business ownership

General practice offers the unique and exciting opportunity to be your own boss. Owning a general practice affords you career diversity, upskilling and autonomy.
