

Expert Advice Matters public health campaign

Turn to your GP script for you to record

Your GP is the best source of medical advice.

It's easier than ever to talk to your GP. You can speak to your GP over the phone or video call. It's also safe to visit your doctor's clinic. Your clinic has made changes to protect you from coronavirus. If you have coronavirus symptoms, call your clinic before you visit.

You can access a translation service for phone and in-person consultations with your GP – details at www.tisnational.gov.au

Now more than ever, you need your GP's expert advice to stay healthy. For any health concern, contact your GP today.

Once you've filmed your video, upload it to your social media accounts (or your practice's accounts) with the hashtag #gpexpertadvice.
